PRIVATE SECTOR ENGAGEMENT WITH LDCs FOR TOURISM-LED GROWTH AND INCLUSIVE SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

WORLD EXPORT DEVELOPMENT FORUM 2011
HARBIYE CULTURAL CENTRE

More than half of the world's least developed countries (LDCs) have identified the development of tourism as a feasible way to participate in the global economy and thereby reduce poverty. The G20 has identified tourism as a growth sector, and the T20 Ministers made a subsequent commitment to its development. With the right partnerships and a favourable business environment, tourism-led growth is achievable for many LDCs.

The World Export Development Forum (WEDF) will open with discussions on the roles of the private and public sectors in LDCs in increasing opportunities for small- and medium-sized enterprises. These discussions set the stage for a one and a half day event covering the importance of tourism-led growth as a means of improving local economies, communities and livelihoods.

Within the Forum, four workshops will provide attendees with the opportunity to participate in the development of projects that will benefit specific countries, regions and sectors.

This Joint Tourism Special Event will be held in Room Camlica, in the Istanbul Convention Centre.

Tuesday afternoon will be devoted to workshops in parallel that explore specific project challenges and opportunities. Each session will work towards concrete ideas of developing ways of integrating small- and medium-sized enterprises in LDCs into the global value chain through tourism. These workshops will provide the basis for highlighting the pilot project concepts developed during WEDF during the closing plenary, with the input of key stakeholders, and will identify a road map to move to the next stage of project development.

15:00 - 16:30 PARALLEL WORKSHOPS EXPLORING SPECIFIC PROJECT CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES

Inclusive tourism as a market opportunity for the developing world:
Two cases – Ugandan handicrafts and Ethiopian cultural heritage

The workshop will highlight the contribution of handicrafts and cultural heritage in tourism-led growth in LDCs. The projects to be developed will aim to show how handicrafts developed through market-led design capability can be sustainable in the tourism sector in Uganda, as well as how cultural heritage can become a more fully integrated part of the tourism value chain in Ethiopia. Participants will work on a project that will develop a structured approach to product development for tourism value chains by linking micro-producers of handicrafts to the tourism industry and by integrating the development of cultural heritage projects into tour operators' supply chains.

Integrating Horticulture in the Tourism Supply Chain

The objective of the workshop is to create the link between the horticulture sub-sector in Tanzania with the tourism industry. Participants will explore the ideas around how agri-business collection and distribution centres are established and managed, and the backwards linkages of these to the tourism industry. The workshop will develop a model that could be used, with adaptation, by many countries.
