ENHANCING PROJECT DELIVERY

The ITC Supply Chain Management Programme supports the implementation of trade-related technical assistance (TRTA) projects.

- We enhance the delivery of projects by providing solutions for training and professional certification.
- Our assistance is aimed at addressing supply chain-related challenges and the associated skills gap in developing and least-developed countries (LDCs).
- With in-depth knowledge of all aspects of supply chain management (SCM), we help organizations leverage key strategies, technical know-how, concepts and best practices.

The programme has been actively involved in building the capacity of businesses to contribute to their national economies through technical assistance projects around the world.

The training approach has been successfully deployed as a part of projects in Kenya, Zambia and Tanzania.

Managing the supply chain comprises multiple tasks that are multi-faceted and complex.
Supply chain management (SCM) focuses on the ultimate customer as the starting and ending point for all intra- and inter-company activities.

The value chain represents those strategically important activities that can allow enterprises to achieve a competitive advantage in the marketplace.

A SOLUTION FOR DONORS

The ITC Supply Chain Programme was originally established with support from the Swiss Secretariat for Economic Affairs (SECO).

Our international organization clients have included the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), UNICEF, the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) and the World Food Programme.

Although our programming is based on a business model where local training providers sign license agreements with ITC, we also work with donors to enhance the delivery of projects.
